DIY Fairy Jar - "How to" Tutorial

Items you will need:

- Mason jar(s)
- Glitter (diamond glitter works best)
- Glow stick(s) - Available at Crazy Store, and some party stores
- Serrated knife

Directions:

- 1) Decide which color glitter and glow stick you are going to want in the jar. Pour your glue into a bowl
- 2) Cut open the bottom of the glow stick on a towel (as not to get the fluid all over everything; you could also elevate the glow stick on the lid of the jar). Fill the same bottle with water and add to the glue
- 3) Dump the contents of the glow stick into the jar. BE CAREFUL! To my surprise, I found that the inside of the glow stick is in fact, glass. Stir until well combined
- 4) Once you've done that, grab the glitter and dump it into the jar on top of the glow stick contents. The amount of glitter is going to depend on the size of your jar, how sparkly you want it, and what glitter you decide on. I used about half of one glitter container I bought. If the glass from the glow stick did not break upon dumping it into the jar, you can break it now by hitting it with the end of the knife. Add a few drops of blue food colouring & stir again
- 5) You can now put the lid on!! Make sure it is on very tight, and shake it up like crazy. Add a few sprinkles of the glitter & give it another good stir

Now that you now know how to make a "fairy in a jar", you can use them to decorate your child's room at night, a deck outside, the yard, your bathroom when you're taking that candle lit bath, or whatever else you may think up! P.S. They only last about 8 hours. Enjoy your "Fairies"!

Ever wondered how to clean your Mokki Furniture?

HOW TO CARE FOR YOUR MOKKI FURNITURE

- 1 Use Mr Min to get rid of dust and light stains & Handy Andy to get rid of khaki pen marks.
- 2 Do not use too much water, just enough, to remove the Handy Andy.
- 3 Do not use harsh chemicals to clean the surfaces as it could damage to the paint work.
- 4 Clean around a bunk bed, bed or desk . Do not move it . It is a heavy piece of furniture to withstand boisterous youngsters . Moving it could loosen screws
- 5 Water damage can occur if the furniture is left in contact with a large amount of water.

With good care your furniture will last many, many years & will always look like new
